SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background: Established by Congress in 1974, NIC has worked closely with federal, state, and local jails, prisons, and community corrections on a broad range of initiatives. Related to this solicitation, NIC has worked diligently to develop products through collaborative partnerships that reflect research and experience relevant to justice-involved women. Within that body of work, there is an awareness that correctional policy and practice has been created to manage primarily male offenders and then applied to female populations, bypassing issues that contribute to women's pathways to criminal justice involvement, imprisonment, transition/reentry, and community supervision. The program in this solicitation, Women Offenders: Developing an Agencywide Approach, provides a roadmap for agency planners to effect policy and practice in managing the increased numbers of justice-involved women.

The delivery of this training event is designed for audiences of correctional leadership and management who influence agency policy and practice and are invested in improving systemic (i.e., improved management of correctional resources, including staff, programs, use of physical space, etc.) and individual outcomes (i.e., risk reduction/recidivism, reduction in behavioral health symptoms) in the management of women committed to the justice system. The blended-learning program will be hosted regionally.

Scope of Work: The awardee will use the existing curricula, Women Offenders: Developing an Agencywide Approach, and other adjunct materials already developed for use in the 2.5- to 3-day training events. Additionally, the awardee may add additional current and relevant materials that will enhance the quality of the program. The awardee will also ensure that any adaptations to program content and instructional strategies are previously approved by NIC and effectively contribute to meeting the program goals.

All the activities noted will be conducted collaboratively with NIC. The awardee will (1) review and become familiar with the established curriculum, lesson plans, presentation slides, participant and trainer manuals, as well as any other adjunct training materials in preparation for program delivery. Any additional materials will be shared with NIC staff to ensure relevance and appropriateness to the established curriculum. (2) Pay fees and expenses for the instructors (faculty) delivering the program. If qualified, the project director and designated project staff may be included as instructors (faculty). (3) Work with NIC to print instructor and participant materials and assume additional costs not covered by NIC related to provision of the materials. The awardee will send one full set of these materials to NIC prior to the delivery of the program for approval. (4) Establish criteria for choosing the regional training sites while considering some of the following criteria: regions that have expressed interest in hosting and have access to appropriate space, a region's or jurisdiction's desire to implement and/or enhance current practice with its female offender population, geographic consideration (accessibility by participant teams without incurring costs that cannot be covered by the host agency [NIC will not be responsible for participant travel, lodging, or per diem costs]), agencies that are interested in developing and/or enhancing correctional partnerships. (5) Select instructors (faculty) with appropriate expertise and knowledge, negotiate their work, pay their fees and expenses, and supervise their work. (6) Actively work with NIC to determine participant team eligibility and notify participant teams of program acceptance. (7) Sequence blended-learning training events to include what activities will occur before the onsite portion of the training, activities onsite, and post-training activities either virtual or onsite. The awardee will distribute materials to participant teams and faculty, deliver webinar events and engage after the training in followup tasks including ongoing, but time-limited, virtual coaching of participant teams. 8) Lead participant teams through a strategic planning process using the established curriculum. (9) Ensure that the NIC program evaluation form is both distributed to and collected from participants. The results will be shared with NIC to be used as feedback for future training.

Document Length: The length of the application should be determined by content. Brevity and clarity are encouraged.

Meetings: The cooperative agreement awardee will participate in an initial meeting with the NIC staff for a project overview and preliminary planning prior to September 15, 2012. Additionally, the awardee should plan to meet with NIC staff routinely to discuss the activities noted in the timeline (see below) during the course of the cooperative agreement. Meetings will be held no less than quarterly and may be conducted via webinar or in person as agreed upon by NIC and the awardee.

Document preparation: For all awards in which a document will be a deliverable, the awardee must follow (1) the Guidelines for Preparing and Submitting Manuscripts for Publication as found in the "General Guidelines for Cooperative Agreements," which can be found on our website at <http://www.nicic.gov/cooperativeagreements>; and (2) NIC recommendations for producing documents using plain language, which can be found at www.nicic.gov/plainlanguage.
